Q29–AS9102 Aerospace First Article Inspection Req

Requirements

AS9102 - First Article Inspection is required in accordance with AS9102 found at www.sae.org. Forms provided in the AS9102 or equivalent shall be used to document the results of the first article inspection as required in the specification. These forms may be generated by any media, but must contain all the information required by AS9102 and be documented using the same unit of measure as specified in the technical data package. A copy of the AS9102 F.A.I. report specification shall be submitted to GD-OTS location where the purchase order originated with or before shipment of the product and retained at the supplier.
